

Emin Hajiyev
Assistant Director
Economic Forecasting Center
Georgia State University

Mr. Emin Hajiyev is the Assistant Director at the Economic Forecasting Center at Georgia State University. His main areas of specialization are the analysis of U.S. and global economies, with specific emphasis on global financial markets and instruments. His research at the Center also focuses on energy and commodity price trends, corporate financial analysis, foreign exchange markets and sovereign debt issues. Mr. Hajiyev is an integral part of producing the Center's premiere publications, The Forecast of the Nation and the award-winning The Forecast of Georgia and Atlanta (2011 AUBER Award of Excellence). He leads a production team involved in the preparation of these publications.

Mr. Emin Hajiyev has been with the Center since January 2003, when he first joined the team as a Research Assistant. In January 2005, he became a Senior Research Associate, and in March 2007, Mr. Hajiyev was appointed the Assistant Director at the Center.

Mr. Hajiyev is a native of Azerbaijan Republic and he received his Bachelor of Engineering degree from State Oil Academy (Azerbaijan) in 1999 and MBA from Georgia State University in 2005. Mr. Hajiyev is fluent in Russian and Turkish and has traveled extensively in Europe, Middle East and Russia.